

COVID-19 Studio Protocols (as of 01 July 2020)

- Clients must provide and wear appropriate face coverings while on studio property. They may be removed for performance recording, but must be worn during all other times of your visit.
- All vocal recordings will take place in one of our live rooms, and not in the control room.
- Only the personnel directly involved with performing at the session will be admitted to the facilities. No others will be permitted without express consent from the studio in advance.
- If the engineer needs to enter a live room while clients are present, all must practice social distancing as is practical. Staff will be wearing appropriate face coverings at all times while others are present.
- Bathroom facilities will continue to be available to clients while visiting the studio. However, kitchen facilities are currently not available. Clients are expected to provide their own beverages, including water, coffee, tea, etc. during their visit to the studio.
- *The studio does provide hand sanitizer at all sinks. However, we do encourage clients to bring their own supply as we cannot guarantee we will have enough for all personnel at all times.
- The studio's HVAC filter systems will be sanitized between each session. Additionally, bookings will be spread out to ensure a minimum of 24-hours between sessions in either of our live rooms.
- For everyone's safety, the studio reserves the right to refuse service to any contracted client or personnel who does not adhere to these protocols.
- Should you have any questions or concerns, please call or email the studio, and we will respond directly.

In addition to the guidelines detailed above, we strongly encourage you to regularly consult national, state, and local government agency guidance, including from the Center for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC).
